PART-I

Q.No.1 Polo Club was to host an International Polo tournament on 10th, 11th and 12th October, 2016. As the tournament would attract more crowds than usual, Polo Club contracted with Super Construction Co. Ltd (Super Construction) for them to build a new car park close to the river. As part of the contract, Super Construction was required to resurface and widen the existing access roads to the current car park which would then lead onto the proposed new car park. The new car park was to be completed by 8th October, 2016. A sum of Rs.6.00 million was payable by the Polo Club before 8th September, 2016 and the balance of Rs.10.00 million was payable on 8th October, 2016.

Polo Club decided that the seats in the stadium needed refurbishing before the tournament. Polo Club, therefore, contracted with Seating Ltd to replace all the seats in stands A and B by 30th September, for a total cost of Rs.5.00 million. Seating Ltd underestimated how long it would take it to replace all the seats and when it left the job on 30th September a number of seats had been poorly fitted. Seating Ltd is claiming the full Rs.5.00 million from the Polo Club.

During 2nd, 3rd, and 4th October, 2016 the City suffered from exceptionally heavy rain. The polo ground, which is low lying, was flooded so the tournament had to be cancelled. It cannot be rescheduled. The area where work was underway on the new car park was entirely submerged by water and most of what had been done was washed away by the river. The area is no longer suitable for any development.

Super Construction is claiming the balance of the monies concerning cost of labour for installing the new car park and improving the access road i.e. Rs.4.00 million. Super Construction intends to recover Rs 4.00 million from the Polo Club.

Explain the relevant law and advice Polo Club as to its liability to Super Construction. and Seating Ltd.

Q.No.2 Last year Anila bought a car from Ayub for Rs.1.5 million to be paid in two equal instalments of Rs.0.75 million. Anila did not pay the second instalment when it was due. She never disputed that she owed Ayub this money. Ayub felt sorry for Anila, who lost her job not long after buying his car. He told her that if she paid him the half of what she owed him (Rs.0.375 million) by the following Wednesday, he would let her off with the rest. Anila paid him Rs.0.375 million on the following Tuesday. On the Friday Ayub was notified that Anila had been successful in one of her job applications and would be starting work at a much better salary than her old job on the first of the Month. Ayub now realizes that she is likely to be earning more than he is. He now wishes to claim the rest of the money which she had originally agreed to pay for the car. Advise Ayub.

Q.No.1 Write a precis of the following passage and assign a suitable heading to it: (20)

“Friendship is above reason, for though you find virtues in a friend, he was your friend before you found him. It is a gift that we offer because we must, to give it as the reward of virtue would be to set a price upon it and those who do it have no friendship to give. If you choose your friends on the ground that you are virtuous and want virtuous company, you are no nearer to true friendship than if you choose them for commercial reasons. Besides, who are you that you should be setting a price upon friendship? It is enough for any man that he has the divine power of making friends, and he must leave it to that power to determine who his friends shall be. For though you may choose the virtuous to be your friends, they may not choose you, indeed friendship cannot grow where there is any calculated choice. It comes like sleep, and you should be grateful, without any misgiving, when it comes.”

Human beings are animals, but we are different from other animals because of our ability to talk. However, we can also communicate in many other ways, like other animals do. We send silent signals to each other all the time. A smile is a sign that a person is happy, we cry, scream and sometimes even groan. A dog can tell simply by the tone of its owner's voice that it is being told off!

However, we also have a unique way of using words. The use of language makes it possible for us to work effectively with one another. It also helps us to plan ahead and do things that animals would find impossible to do. The ability to use language means we can argue, reach agreement and explain our views to others. We can record our feelings, thoughts and ideas. Most importantly we can benefit from the knowledge of past generations and the information we acquire in our lifetime can be presented so that future generations may be able to make use of it.
